

Fundamental Rights in the New Education Policy

Dr. Seema Malik
Assistant Professor, Department of Education
Babu Banarsi Das Institute of Technology, Ghaziabad

Abstract: The new National Education Policy of India, which was implemented in the last week of July, has made it clear in its preamble itself that the purpose of education is to prepare ideal human beings who are inquisitive and logical, who have the qualities of patience and empathy, courage and resilience, scientific consciousness, mature moral values. Only such citizens will be able to build the society that has been envisioned by the Constitution of India. A society that is just, inclusive and embraces diversity and pluralism is the real identity of India. In the new education policy, those basic moral. The human and constitutional values that will guide the education system are to develop such qualities in the students that they have empathy, respect for others, understand the importance of cleanliness, humility, love for democratic values and service. They learn to respect public property, develop a scientific temper, inculcate the values of freedom, responsibility, equality and justice, and respect diversity.

Keywords: Comprehensive, Incorporation, Fundamental, Constitution, Gender.

How to cite this article: Dr. Seema Malik, "Fundamental Rights in the New Education Policy" Published in International Journal of Scientific Modern Research and Technology (IJS MRT), ISSN: 2582-8150, Volume-11, Issue-3, Number-2, June, 2023, pp.08-10, URL: www.ijsmrt.com/wp-content/uploads/2023/07/IJS MRT-23110302.pdf

Copyright © 2023 by author (s) and International Journal of Scientific Modern Research and Technology Journal. This is an Open Access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License (CC BY 4.0) (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>)

IJS MRT-23110302

1. INTRODUCTION

The New Education Policy (NEP) is a comprehensive framework for the development of education in India. It aims to address the exiting challenges and introduce transformative reforms. One of the key aspects of the NEP is the recognition and incorporation of fundamental rights in the educational system. This article explores the fundamental rights enshrined in the Indian Constitution and their relevance and Implementation in the context of the new education policy.

II. FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS GUARANTEED BY THE INDIAN CONSTITUTION

1. Right to Equality (Articles 14-18)

A. Equality of opportunity in education.

b. Prohibition of discrimination based on caste, religion, gender, etc. Reservation policies for socially and educationally disadvantaged groups

2. Right to Freedom (Articles 19-22)

a. Freedom of speech and expression within educational institutions.

b. Freedom to establish and administer educational institutions.

3. Right against Exploitation (Articles and trafficking for education

Right to Freedom of Religion 23-24)

4. Prohibition of child labor and ensuring access to education,

- a. Efforts to eradicate bonded labor (Articles 25-29)
- b. Protection of religious freedom within educational institutions

5. Cultural and Educational Rights (Articles 29-30)

- a. Protection of the rights of minorities to establish and administer educational institutions.
- b. Promotion of special educational provisions for socio-culturally backward communities.

III. RELEVANCE AND IMPLEMENTATION OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS IN THE NEW EDUCATION POLICY

1. Inclusive Education

- a. Promotion of equitable access to education for all individual.
- b. Reservation policies and affirmative action for marginalized and disadvantaged groups Special provisions for children with disabilities and special educational needs.

2. Quality Education

- a. Emphasis on improving the quality of education in terms of infrastructure, curriculum, and teaching method.
- b. Ensuring that all educational institutions adhere to minimum standards. Measures to reduce dropout rates and improve learning outcomes.

3. Gender Equality

- a. Promotion of gender equality and equal opportunities within educational.
- b. Measures to address gender-based violence and discrimination in schools and colleges

4. Freedom of Expression and Thought:

- a. Protection of freedom of speech and expression within educational institutions to foster critical thinking and intellectual growth.

b. Encouraging open dialogue and debates on diverse viewpoints.

5. Right to Education.

- a. Ensuring universal access to free and compulsory education for all children.
- b. Eliminating barriers such as poverty, child labor, and social stigma that hinder access to education.

III. CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

1. Implementation Challenges

- a. Limited resources and infrastructure
- b. Unequal distribution of educational facilities resistance to reforms from various stakeholders.

2. Strengthening Legal Framework

- a. Ensuring effective enforcement of fundamental rights through robust legal mechanisms.
- b. Regular monitoring and evaluation of educational institutions to ensure

3. Sensitization and Awareness

- a. Educating teachers, administrators, and other stakeholders about the Importance of fundamental rights in education.
- b. Promoting awareness among students about their rights.

VI. CONCLUSIONS

The incorporation of fundamental rights in the New Education Policy reflects the commitment of the Indian government towards providing inclusive, equitable, and quality education for all. The implementation of these rights poses several challenges but with effective policies, legal frameworks, and awareness, It possible to overcome these hurdles and ensure that every individual can exercise their fundamental right to education.

REFERENCES

[1] Constitution of India Government of India, Ministry of Law and Justice <https://ndiacode.nic.in/bitstream/123456789/2/2019-06-27RSA.pdf>.

[2] National Education Policy 2020 Government of India, Ministry of Education (<http://www.mhird.gov.in/lt/uploadfiles/murid/files/NEP>)

[3] Sharma, R. C. (2019). Education and the Constitution of India. Atlantic Publishers.

[4] Dubey, P. (2021) Fundamental Rights in Indian Constitution A Critical Appraisal. Aayu Publications.

[5] Sheth, F. (2016). Education and the Constitution A Study on the Fundamental Rights in India Wild side Press.

[6] Durukulam M. (2020): Fundamental Rights in Indian Constitution. IK International Publishing House Pvt Ltd.

[7] Ray, S. (2021) Fundamental Rights and Education in India APH Publishing Corporation.

[8] B. Jain, M. P (2019) Right to Education under Indian Constitution: An Analytical Study Bare! Law House.

[9] Narang, S. (2020). Right to Education and Fundamental Rights in India. Scholars Press.

[10] Sharma, (2021), Inclusive Education Challenges and opportunities.